“ Man, Joey, I can't even believe that you're gone.

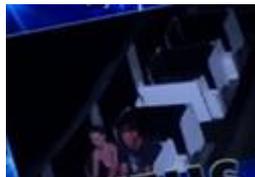

I've known Joey since I was sixteen and have had the pleasure of making some great memories with him over the years. Some moments were definitely more admirable than others, but they were always fun. Heck, I even tattooed his knee at the beginning of this year. (I'm not a tattoo artist so you can probably guess that that was a moment of lapsed judgement on our part, but that was just how it was when I was around Joey.)

There was always something fun and exciting happening. I can honestly say that there was never a dull moment when I was with Joseph.

He was not only a fun person to be around but he was always so full of light, even in the darkest times. Some of my favorite conversations I've ever had were with him. He was always so kind to me even when he didn't have to be. I never felt judged when I was with him and I felt as though I could talk to him about anything and everything. That's something I don't see from just everybody.

I also got the pleasure of witnessing just how great of a friend he could be to my ex boyfriend of 6 years, his best friend Thomas. That friendship was truly beautiful and it always made me admire him as a person even more.

Thank you for being you, Joseph, and thank you for the memories.

“ Joseph is my best friend in the entire world. We met when we were 11 on an online game called runescape and from then on we were inseparable. We eventually got to meet in person but after hundreds of hours of phone calls, video chats and voice messages it didn't matter that we lived far apart. I moved around over 10 times in my life and Joe was the only person who stayed in contact with me the whole time; he was my one constant in life.

Joe was an amazing human, he looked out for others and cared for his friends and family more than he cared for himself. He had a passion for helping others and he loved animals, nature, music, bushcraft, train hopping around america documentaries on youtube, but most importantly he loved his family Joe, Dawn, Dustin, and all of his dear friends. Joseph often talked about his friend Mollie Harr and I can only imagine the ruckus those two are causing up in heaven, or the other side; wherever you are.

We all love you so, so much Joseph. I have so many memories of us, I literally have a lifetime of stories to tell. You will never be forgotten. Thank you for being a light in my life, my true north; my twin flame and other half. I will spend the rest of my life watching you in the sunsets and the humm of the birds and blooming of flowers. I love you honeybee. 💔

“ Joseph, and my two other best friends used to hangout all the time playing with legos, biking around the neighborhood and huge sleepovers of 4 people. I wish I could've seen him more. Its been a while since ive seen him, but he will always be one of my closest friends.

“ I met Joseph through an online game we both played, we grew pretty close and spoke everyday.
He changed my outlook on life, forever. He made everyday so special and colourful. Joseph truly has changed my life forever, he made everything okay when it seemed like nothing would help. Sadly we never had the chance to meet in person, but together we can help his soul live on ❤️

My thoughts are with Joe, Dawn and Dustin.

“ Joey and I grew up the get her right down the street from one another for many years. But then we kinda lost touch for awhile after highschool. We were best friends as kids spending so many summer days just hanging out playing video games and riding around the neighborhood on our bikes, I will always cherish those days forever.

He will surely be missed 😞

“ I never met joey in person but he was my best friend for years, we spoke every single day and iv never met a more genuine loyal man who always seen the best in every one he met. Joeys loss has been an utter heart break to everyone around him and I feel like a bright part of my life has diminished without him.

My best wishes to Joe and Dawn and Dustin and his family. Joey is somebody we will never forget and his kindness and humor has influenced the rest of our lives. His presence will he sorely missed beyond words I can give. Love you buddy, I will never forget you. The brother I wish I had
