“ My heart goes out to the family. I met Lark some years ago. Not only that we were co-workers, but we became very close friends. He would always come up to me with a huge smile and give me a big hug. Even when there was something bothering him he would say, "Mom I'm upset." ( Mom is what he called me, due to our age difference.) After speaking with him, once again that huge smile would appear.

I will miss his smile, that funny little laugh, and his hugs. Parents, you were truly blessed when God gave you Lark. Stay in prayer, as I will also do for you all.

Love,

“ My sincere condolences go out to your family. I can't imagine what you are going through and I'm so sorry for your loss. My heart has been aching ever since I heard the news.

Lark and I were best friends since middle school and that friendship extended through our adulthood. One of my fondest memories was when my mom took him and I to our first large scale hip hop concert in Milwaukee at the old Bucks stadium. She was sick and running a fever but soldiered through and watched the concert with us. We had the time of our lives and got to see some of our favorite artists. Almost everytime we hung out we would reminisce about that time and how fun it was. He was one the most loyal friends that I ever had and wouldn't think twice about giving you his shirt off of his back if you needed it. His main focus was always making sure you as a friend were having a good time and was always ready to go do something with you.

Lark, you were taken from us way to soon and I want you to know that everyone loves you and is thinking about you everyday. Rest in paradise friend.

“ Lark, his cousins, and I share many a great memories growing up. For years his grandmother Jean used to watch us every morning before school. Nearly inseparable we spent many a time sleeping over at each other's houses, he was a LEGO guru and the WWE master! Always a cheerful and delightful person to be around, if you needed a smile, there was always bound to be one found on Lark's face. My heart goes out to the family, and to you bud! Love you brother, we will see each other again someday!
