“ Dad, I miss you already. I'm happy you are no longer in a body that was failing your vibrant spirit. I will remind everyone that you did not lose this battle. You met the battle head on and did things your way. Everyday, every hour! And while some days you had some struggles, you just kept going. You went on a 3500 mile road trip just over a week before you broke free. You put on a brave face and got everything done, your way and made sure everything that was important to you was taken care of. No loose ties. We miss you so much already. No regrets, Dad. Thank you for stepping up for me. I'll love you always and miss you forever. Give Grandma and Grandpa a hug for me. Fly free! 🕊️

Love ya!

“ Mitch, I never imagined that you would be the one to go first! There were many firsts during our 27 years together with the last 1st being that we both went through cancer at same time. I'm so happy you had Cris and her family to help you through it. I will never forget all the good family times we enjoyed during those years. Wisconsin Dell's, the scaredy trip we took to Chicago with your mom and Sherrie. You are with the ones you love and missed. I'm quite sure you will finish learning the rest of the song Smoke on the water on a guitar up there! Together, we raised 3 great kids and installed great morals and made sure they had their priorities straight growing up. They are so happy that they got to be with you so often during your sick time and I'm very thankful that we both finally grew up and were able to forgive each other for our stubborn behaviors. You were a good man and a good dad during those years! Tell mom & grandma and aunt Mae & John (F.M.) Hi for me. Someday we will see you again. Chris and her family & our kids took great care of you and I'm so thankful they were all there for that! Prayers were answered over and over again. No regrets..Mary..
