“ The first time I met my Cousin Vincent was when I was a wee girl and he was just a baby. My family and I were invited to his home for his baptism and he was as blond then as the Golden Fleece. After many years, I reconnected with him at our Aunt Gretchen's 70th birthday party and got to know him and his wonderful family. He was lively, funny, and engaging. My Dad and I paid a visit to him and his sister Audrey many years ago. He sat on the couch with his arm around grandson, Gage, and talked lovingly of his family. He shared with me that my Dad had been a special person in his life, someone that listened to him and supported him. I had not known that, and it made me proud of my Dad, because I knew Vincent and his siblings had a hard life growing up. Vincent, I hope the joy of heaven is with you now. Watch over us who know and love you. God be with your family. Sincerely, Cousin Debbie Doherty
